Hi Richard,

The Committee had to be reconstituted due to a conflict of interest with an applicant which delayed things. We just met last week and a shortlist has been determined. Until we receive approval from Academic HR we are unable to contact applicants with Committee's decision. I expect to hear back in the next 2 weeks.

Thank you

Good morning Doctor,

Thank you for your inquiry regarding information for International Medical Graduates (IMGs) who wish to practice medicine in Canada. Please find below some useful websites to help you understand and initiate the steps towards licensure in Canada.

The first step would be to visit the website for the Medical Regulatory Authority (College of Physicians and Surgeons) in the province or territory in which you wish to practice. All websites are accessible from the following link: Members - Federation of Medical Regulatory Authorities of Canada

The Medical Council of Canada (MCC.CA Website) is the "administrator of examinations". The provincial Medical Regulatory Authorities dictate requirements for licensure in their respective jurisdictions— and one of those requirements is for medical graduates to pass the MCC examinations required to obtain the licentiate of the Medical Council of Canada (LMCC). IMGs must first take the Evaluating Examination (MCCEE).

For more information on the MCCEE:

- General information and examination schedule: MCCEE Information
- For eligibility and how to apply: MCCEE Application Information

We encourage you to also consult the websites below as background. Once you have done so, please proceed with requirements as stipulated within your field of interest.

Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada

They will provide information about assessment of specialty postgraduate medical training and certification, and also have IMG information and guidance.

The College of Family Physicians of Canada

They will provide information about training and certification in family medicine.

Canadian Resident Matching Service \(CaRMS\)

This site offers information about entry into Canadian residency programs.

Regards,

The Medical Council of Canada
